

Botswana's leading Business School.

Since its inception in 1996, Botswana Accountancy College (BAC) has been significantly advocating for national change in education. It has, for the past sixteen years, been replacing old systems with ones that adequately equip young people with knowledge and skills that ensure that they are highly marketable once they graduate.

BAC continues to pride itself as a school of excellence. It is with this underpinning factor that the school has always committed itself to producing graduates that stand out from the pack; graduates that are highly employable. BAC graduates are not only well- educated, but are also mindful of the responsibility they have of being active contributors to the countries growth.

There is a high demand in Botswana for well trained professionals that can be world leaders. The leadership at BAC has set the school on course to create a powerful legacy that stands to benefit both the institution and Botswana, as well as, in effect, the world at large.

To those outside the domestic market, Botswana is quickly becoming a unique destination for international students to further enhance their education. Offering a strong cultural appreciation of value of education, BAC has designed its courses to help students gain skills that will help them soar in this aggressive and competitive industry.

These skills include Business Management, Computing, Hospitality, Taxation, Insurance and Accounting. With these globally recognised and accredited professional qualifications, BAC graduates are positioned to find employment in a broad spectrum of sectors, locally and internationally.

By embracing the unique opportunity of influencing and shaping future leaders of Botswana, the college has established strong strategic partnerships such as with the highly reputed University of Derby and The University of Sunderland, respectively. It is alliances like these that assure that a fresh generation of business leaders are being groomed to guide and inspire the country to success.

With the attention that BAC is getting from progressive, contemporary businesses as well as other sectors, it is more than evident that Botswana Accountancy College truly is Botswana's business school. The school's reputation is also embodied in the quality of its alumni, many of whom continue to make outstanding contributions to the society. This is a true testimony of BAC's dedication to inspiring young minds for brighter futures.
